Agreement

If you are accepted to Hothouse Yoga's teacher training you agree to participate fully in all training activities with an open heart and mind. If you must miss some portion of training due to unforeseen circumstances, you will be required to make up the missed segment by attending the corresponding segment during the next teacher training in order to complete your certification. Completing Hothouse's training does NOT guarantee you a teaching position at Hothouse Yoga. In addition to the medical information above, it is your responsibility to inform the trainers if your medical circumstances change during training in a way that could impact your practice or training. If your progress or participation is unsatisfactory during the course of the training you will be notified of the problem with adequate time to correct it prior to the end of training.
